Ball State University welcomed back one of its own as Mike Neu was named the head coach for the Cardinals football program in January of 2016. Neu played quarterback at Ball State where he was named 1993 Mid-American Conference Offensive Player of the Year.

A member of Ball State's 1989 and 1993 MAC championship teams, Neu guided his alma mater to its first MAC championship since 1996 and its first MAC West Division title since 2008 during the 2020 campaign. BSU capped the season by earning the first bowl win in program history, defeating San Jose State in the Arizona Bowl.

Now in his eighth season as head coach, his seven years at the helm have produced 48 All-MAC selections and 130 Academic All-MAC choices, including at least 20 honorees in three of the last four years. The Cardinals have made major strides under Neu's leadership, steadily improving early in his tenure, knocking on the door to a MAC title in 2019 and breaking it down in 2020. Neu's guidance has stabilized the Cardinals among the top programs in the MAC.

Appearing in bowl games in two of the past three years, the Cardinals built upon MAC championship success in 2020 and reached another bowl game in 2021, marking just the third time in school history that the program played in a bowl in back-to-back seasons (2007-08, 2012-13 and 2020-21).

Ball State used that momentum on the recruiting trail and signed its highest-rated recruiting class in the recruiting rankings era (1999-present) in the 2022 class. Youth on the 2022 roster has added continuity to culture leading into the 2023 campaign.

Neu's return to his alma mater has grown a culture established over seven years and 81 games -- the most by a Ball State coach since Paul Schudel and Bill Lynch led the program over 18 consecutive seasons from 1985 to 2002. Schudel won a pair of MAC titles with Neu as his QB, as part of 10-year run. Lynch, the father of current offensive coordinator Kevin Lynch, won another MAC crown as part of his eight seasons. Neu's 2020 league title was the program's first since Lynch's in 1996.

Neu's 2020 conference champs boasted 12 all-conference selections, led by the league's co-defensive player of the year in Brandon Martin. Ball State also finished the year ranked No. 23 in the final AP Top 25 and the final Amway Coaches Poll. It marked the first time the Cardinals finished a season in the national rankings at the FBS level and the first time the program was ranked since December 2008.

The program began making its upward trek under Neu in 2019 when Ball State reclaimed the Bronze Stalk Trophy from Northern Illinois for the first time since 2008 with a come-from-behind 27-20 win over the Huskies in early October. The Cards then capped the year by knocking off eventual MAC champion Miami to earn the Red Bird Rivalry Trophy, 41-27.

Ball State's offense was statistically the most explosive in the conference in 2019. The Cardinals led the MAC in scoring (34.8 points per game) and total offense (463 yards per game). On defense, BSU forced turnover after turnover all year. The 24 forced turnovers were the most in the conference and ranked 15th nationally.

Ten Cardinals came away with All-MAC accolades following the 2019 season, the most at the time for a Ball State team since 2013. The football team also placed a league-high 26 players on the Academic All-MAC list in 2020.

Neu has over 20 years of coaching experience with stops in the National Football League (NFL), Division I FBS football and the arena leagues.

Before returning to Ball State, Neu spent the 2014 and 2015 seasons as the quarterbacks coach for the NFL's New Orleans Saints. In 2014 under Neu's guidance, quarterback Drew Brees was selected to his franchise-record eighth Pro Bowl as a Saint. Brees led the league in completions (456), tied for first in passing yardage (4,952), ranked second in completion percentage (69.2) and tied for fifth in touchdown passes (33). In 2015, Brees once again led the NFL in passing yardage (4,870) while ranking second in completion percentage (68.3) and completions (428).

Neu, a native of Indianapolis, Ind., started 38 of 41 games at quarterback in his four seasons at Ball State (1990-93). He was honored with the MAC's Vern Smith Award as the league's most valuable player and the MAC Offensive Player of the Year award as a senior. That year, Neu and the Cardinals went 8-3-1 overall and 7-0-1 in league action to capture the MAC championship. In one of his greatest games as a collegiate quarterback, Neu threw for a Ball State record 469 yards and completed 28-of-40 passes against Toledo in 1993 to help the Cardinals rally from a 30-3 deficit and record the largest comeback in Ball State history, a 31-30 Homecoming victory.

Neu played professionally in the Canadian Football League and Arena Football League (AFL) from 1995-97 before beginning his coaching career in 1998 with the AFL's Nashville Kats. In 2000, Neu was named head coach for the first time as he took over the Arena Football 2's (AF2) Augusta Stallions. He led that organization to a conference title in 2000 with a 14-4 record and was named the AF2 Coach of the Year.

In 2001 and 2002, Neu worked with the AFL's Carolina Cobras. He served as the offensive coordinator in 2001 and was promoted to head coach in 2002. During his stint as head coach, Neu led the team to the quarterfinals of the AFL playoffs, including the team's first-ever playoff win.

Neu then spent four years as head coach of the AFL's New Orleans VooDoo. There, he compiled a 33-31 record and earned 2004 AFL Coach of the Year honors. During his first season at the helm, Neu led the team to a franchise-best 11-5 record, a division title and a playoff berth.

From 2008-12, Neu worked on the New Orleans Saints' player personnel staff. He then spent the 2012 and 2013 seasons with Tulane as the quarterbacks coach. In 2013, Neu helped guide Tulane to a 7-6 overall record and its first postseason appearance in 11 years – the 2013 R+L Carriers New Orleans Bowl.

Neu received his bachelor's degree in sport administration from Ball State in 1994 and served as a graduate assistant coach for the Cardinals during the 1994 season. He was inducted into the Ball State Athletics Hall of Fame in 2004.

Neu and his wife, Charmin, have a daughter, Graycen, and two sons, Carson and Chase.

SCHEUMANN STADIUM

Originally completed in 1967 with a capacity of 16,000 fans, Ball State's Scheumann Stadium has grown into one of the top football facilities in the Mid-American Conference after a series of renovations that have increased its capacity to 22,500 and added a high definition video board and permanent lighting for night games.

The stadium is named in honor of former Ball State football letterwinner, the late John Scheumann, and his wife, June, who donated a $4 million lead gift in the Stadium Campaign in 2005. In 2019, the field was named in recognition of Gainbridge to recognize the donation from company executive Daniel Towriss, '94, and his wife, Heather.

Paul and Patricia Kozel's gift of $1.25 million during the Stadium Campaign was honored with the naming of the press box and entertainment suites as the Kozel Communications Center. The Stadium Campaign chairman, John Fisher, and his wife, Janice, donated $510,000 to the campaign and were recognized in the naming of the John W. and Janice B. Fisher Football Training Complex.

A video board was added in the South end zone in 2013. In June 2015, the playing surface was replaced with Sprinturf as well as a new design featuring red end zones and the updated Cardinal head logo at midfield.

The latest addition to the stadium complex is the Ron and Joan Venderly Football Center at the southwest corner of the facility. The Venderly's generosity helped the Cardinals move into a state-of-the-art office complex with a theatre style team meeting room in the fall of 2016.

In the final regular season game of the 2008 season, a Scheumann Stadium record 23,861 fans (including a school-record 11,088 students) saw the Cardinals record a 45-22 victory over Western Michigan to win the MAC West Division title and finish the regular season with a perfect 12-0 record.

In addition to the single-game attendance record, the Cardinals had the best overall attendance in program history with 115,204 fans walking through the turnstiles over the course of six home games. BSU's average attendance of 19,201 for the 2008 season ranked second in program history, trailing only the 1997 average of 20,258.

Overall, Scheumann Stadium has seen 16 crowds of more than 20,000 fans. The very first game played at Scheumann Stadium saw Ball State defeat Butler on Oct. 21, 1967, by a score of 65-7.

The Cardinals are 168-115-4 (.592) all-time at Scheumann Stadium entering the 2023 season. Ball State has gone undefeated nine times at Scheumann Stadium, most recently in 2013.

Ron and Joan Venderly Football Team Center

The Ron and Joan Venderly Football Center is located at the southwest corner of the John B. and June M. Scheumann Stadium and adjacent to the John W. and Janice B. Fisher Football Training Complex. The facility, completed in the summer of 2016, allowed for the repurposing of existing space to better serve student-athletes.

The Scheumann Family Team Meeting Room, a theater style meeting area with 140 seats for the team, coaches and staff, is the centerpiece of the 12,633 square foot Venderly Football Center. Dedicated coaches' offices, a full coaching staff meeting room and a recruiting lounge are also a part of the facility.

Ron and Joan Venderly's passion for higher education and athletics has led to exceptional support of Ball State for more than 20 years. The late Ron, MA '64, received the President's Medal from Ball State in 2009. His various affiliations with the university included membership with the Cardinal Commitment Campaign Committee, Teachers College Deans Advisory Council, Founders Society and the Cardinal Varsity Club. As part of the Cardinal Commitment: Developing Champions Campaign, Ron and Joan Venderly were the lead benefactors to the Venderly Football Center.

In 2014, Joan received the Honorary Alumni Award, the highest honor given to individuals who are not Ball State graduates but who have made significant contributions to the university's welfare, reputation, prestige and pursuit of excellence.

Ron and Joan Venderly Football Team Center

In May of 2019, the Ball State University Board of Trustees announced the approval of a $15 million indoor practice facility for athletics.

Flash forward to April of 2021 when the Ball State football team opened spring camp inside the new multipurpose complex

Serving as critical practice space for football, softball, baseball, and soccer during inclement weather, it made an immediate impact on the competitive experience of Ball State's student-athletes.

The indoor space also provides additional opportunities for the entire campus and broader community, including the Pride of Mid-America Marching Band.

The facility was named the Scheumann Family Indoor Practice Facility in honor of June and the late John Scheumann, '71, who made the lead gift. The field inside the practice facility is named Briner Field to honor Peggy and Kenneth Briner, '69.

Overall, the 84,000 square-foot facility features a field-turf surface measuring 360' x 160' and regulation-sized competition field with a ceiling height of 65'. Retractable netting, batting cages, and storage provide the necessary amenities for teams to conduct training. The facility is conveniently located adjacent to the Fisher Training Complex on the footprint of the previous grass practice fields.

IN PARTNERSHIP WITH BALL STATE UNIVERSITY

The "Pride of Mid-America" Marching Band is one of the nation's great college marching bands. Composed of more than 200 student musicians, the band is an integral and exciting part of the tradition and spirit at Ball State University. Utilizing a versatile marching style, the band is capable of performing traditional drill, as well as the latest in contemporary show design.

The Pride of Mid-America brings spirit and musical pageantry to various events:

- all home football games and occasional away games
- NFL games
- MAC championship games
- bowl games
- high school band competition exhibition performances in Indiana and regionally
- Ball State campus performances

The Pride is open to all BSU students regardless of major, with the band's membership representing virtually every academic curriculum on campus.

For more information on the Pride of Mid-America band, contact Dr. Jeremy Harmon at jeremy.harmon@bsu.edu.

As Cardinals, We Fly.

For more than 100 years, we've had an unwavering belief in an education rooted in creativity, values, and intellectual curiosity. Our University has served Muncie, the state of Indiana, and the nation.

We were founded on the beneficence and tenacity of the Ball brothers, who gave back to the community that gave them so much. They purchased the land and buildings of a defunct institution and donated them to the State of Indiana. This gift became the Indiana State Normal School Eastern Division, which opened in 1918 to meet Indiana's need for more and better teachers. To recognize the Ball family's generosity, the Indiana General Assembly changed the institution's name to Ball Teachers College in 1922 and then Ball State Teachers College in 1929.

By the 1960s, the regional teachers college had begun to attract faculty from outside the Midwest. In 1965, the Indiana General Assembly renamed the college Ball State University, acknowledging its phenomenal growth in enrollment and facilities, the variety and quality of its educational programs and services, and the anticipation of the broader role it would play in the state's future.

What began as a teachers college has grown into a world-class University with highly respected programs in education, architecture, business, communications, fine arts, sciences, humanities, and the health professions. Ball State offers 112 academic majors, 75 master's, two educational specialists, and 16 doctoral degrees in seven academic colleges. More than 100 degrees and certificates are available through online and distance education.

Ball State is committed to ensuring that all members of the campus community are welcome through our practice of valuing the varied experiences and worldviews of those we serve. We strive to attract and retain a diverse faculty, staff, and student body and promote a culture of respect and civil discourse.

Symbolized by the statue Beneficence, our enduring values—excellence, innovation, courage, integrity, respect, social responsibility, and gratitude—guide us today and will endure as we enter a bright future.

President Geoffrey S. Mearns

President Geoffrey S. Mearns serves as the 17th president of Ball State University.

After joining the University in May 2017, President Mearns helped to develop a new strategic plan. Destination 2040: Our Flight Path establishes a long-range vision for the University that sets priorities across five key areas: undergraduate excellence, graduate education and lifetime learning, community engagement and impact, scholarship and societal impact, and institutional and inclusive excellence.

During his tenure, President Mearns has pursued initiatives that have increased alumni engagement and fundraising and enhanced the University's commitment to the community, most notably through its innovative partnership with Muncie Community Schools.

President Mearns earned his undergraduate degree in English from Yale University and a law degree from the University of Virginia. After a legal career that included serving as a federal prosecutor, President Mearns held academic and administrative roles at Cleveland State University, and then he served as president of Northern Kentucky University. He and his wife, Jennifer, have five children.

ALMA MATER

Dear Alma Mater, hear our vow of faith and trust in thee!
Thy spirit hovers near us now, and through eternity.
Thy colors true of red and white shall e'er exalted be.
We'll honor thee both day and night;
Dear Alma Mater, we love thee!

BALL STATE UNIVERSITY

Director of Athletics Jeff Mitchell

Jeff Mitchell was introduced as the Cardinals' Director of Athletics on February 6, 2023. Mitchell serves as a member of the Ball State University senior executive team and leads a Ball State athletics department that sponsors 19 programs with more than 400 student-athletes.

A respected administrator with more than two decades of experience in higher education and athletics administration, Mitchell helped guide Ball State athletics to five regular season or tournament conference championships in the spring of 2023 as the Cardinals collectively claimed six conference championships and advanced to 11 post-season appearances in 2022-23, including winning the national championship in the women's high jump.

The success earned Ball State a finish in the top 25 percent of all Division I athletics programs in the LEARFIELD Director's Cup and the highest ranking in the Mid-American Conference. Ball State captured the prestigious Jacoby Trophy awarded to the institution with the top-rated women's program in the MAC, while the Cardinals also finished second for the Reese Trophy awarded to the league's top performing men's program. Additionally, Ball State claimed the Institutional Achievement Award given to the conference's best scoring institution based on academic success.

Prior to arriving in Muncie, Mitchell served as the Deputy Director of Athletics at the University of Southern Mississippi for nearly five years and managed the daily operations of the Golden Eagles' athletics department while providing leadership for special projects, such as "#ToTheTop25," the department's strategic plan. He also negotiated the university's long-term, multi-million-dollar multimedia partnership with LEARFIELD, and its long-term agreement with ticketing partner Paciolan, which is expected to generate $100 million in revenue over the term of the deal.

Mitchell served as the Southern Miss interim director of athletics during the 2018-19 academic year. He also assisted in the planning and development of $7.5 million in facility upgrades at Southern Miss, including a new 18,000-square-foot student-athlete academic center, a new synthetic turf baseball field and state-of-the-art LED lighting system, a new basketball court redesign and state-of-the-art LED lighting system, and enhancements to the baseball locker room, the M-Club lounge and kitchen, and the athletics administration building.

For the Golden Eagles, Mitchell served as the primary sport administrator for men's basketball and baseball in addition to serving as the administrator for football scheduling. During Mitchell's tenure at Southern Miss, baseball made four NCAA regional appearances ('19, '21, '22, '23) and two super regional appearances ('22, '23) while men's basketball played in the CBI post-season tournament in 2019 and the NIT in 2023 and football participated in the Armed Forces Bowl following the 2019 season and won the 2022 LendingTree Bowl.

Mitchell joined Southern Miss after a successful 12-year stint at Santa Clara University in Santa Clara, California, where he most recently served as the senior associate athletic director for external operations. While at Santa Clara, Mitchell served as the interim Director of Athletics for five months in 2015. Mitchell served as the sport administrator for the Bronco men's basketball and baseball programs and was a member of the WCC basketball cabinet and served a three-year term on the NCAA Division I Baseball Regional Advisory Committee for the West Region (2015-2017). During his time at Santa Clara, the Broncos secured 22 team NCAA tournament bids, 11 individual NCAA postseason invitations across eight different sports, and 7 WCC championships. The Broncos also claimed two postseason tournament titles in men's basketball in 2011 (CIT) and 2013 (CBI).

A collaborative campus leader, Mitchell has served in various leadership roles and committees at Santa Clara and at Southern Miss—where he also taught business classes as an adjunct professor. As an accomplished public address announcer for 20 years, Mitchell has announced Division I baseball, basketball, football, soccer, and volleyball in the SEC, PAC-12, C-USA, WCC, Division III football and basketball in the SCAC, and Division III NCAA Tournament basketball.

Mitchell is the co-author of a textbook entitled "Sport, Ethics and Leadership," which was published in 2017. He earned his Bachelor of Arts (2001) and Master of Business Administration (2003) from Millsaps College in Jackson, Mississippi, where he was a four-year member of the varsity baseball team, a four-year member of the athletic department's sports information staff, and assistant baseball coach. He earned his Juris Doctorate from the University of Mississippi School of Law in 2005, where he also served as a graduate assistant in the external relations unit and primarily worked with the Ole Miss football and men's basketball programs.

Mitchell and his wife, April, are parents to daughter, Harper Wynne (14), and son, Carson (10).

Introducing The WILLIAMS SOCIETY

Established in the fall of 2021, The Williams Society is an exclusive group of the most notable and philanthropic supporters for Ball State Athletics. Members of The Williams Society have chosen to make significant philanthropic gifts in order to enhance the experience for our student-athletes.

Members' philanthropic support is critical to elevating the standard of success for Ball State Athletics while advancing our student-athletes experience and enhancing our department to reach championship-level results in the classroom and in competition year-after-year.

Those who make a minimum commitment to Ball State Athletics of $25,000 or more above seat-and-parking-related giving over the course of five years (minimum of $5,000 a year for 5 years) are eligible to join The Williams Society. Additionally, those who document an estate gift that amounts to $250,000 or more for Ball State Athletics are eligible to join.

Proud Sponsor of Ball State Athletics

Charlie Cardinal has served as the official mascot of Ball State University's intercollegiate athletics program since 1969.

In the fall of 1969, the first tryouts were held for Charlie Cardinal. The original Charlie was portrayed through a paper mache, feathered, smiling Cardinal head piece. Over the last 53 years, Charlie's appearance has changed five times.

After the 1969 original Charlie, the 1970s version included a fiberglass head and red suit with yellow leggings.

In the mid-1980s, the costume changed to feature a body suit in red feathers, while the head piece grew in size and appearance.

In 2006, the suit was replaced with a new, slimmer suit to allow for comfort and greater flexibility. The new Charlie Cardinal suit is similar to those worn by professional mascots for ease of movement, sight and comfort.

The head was updated in 2012 to help with agility and breathe-ability. Also, Charlie's feet were updated to smaller talons to help with mobility.

In the summer of 2023, Charlie was reconditioned with a leaner, more muscular physique.

The spirited host of Ball State, Charlie Cardinal is an ambassador for the university as he makes guest appearances around the state of Indiana and the nation.

For more information on Charlie Cardinal, or to inquire about Charlie appearing at your event, contact the Marketing & Fan Engagement Office at charlie@bsu.edu or (765) 285-3243.
